Ingredients

Mary Lou and Maggie will show you how to create garden art by combining repurposed items.

Simon will identify common garden plants that attract butterflies and give tips on growing them.

Candy will describe the varieties, characteristics, pruning, and diseases of one of our favorite hardy flowering shrubs.

Becky will encourage you to enhance your flower and vegetable gardens by growing plants vertically.

Kristi and Jack will tell you how to become a Master Gardener community volunteer.

Wally and Cathy will show you techniques that let you have ripe tomatoes in June and greens until December.

With degrees in Forest Management, Wildlife Management, and Forest Ecology, Harry brings on-the-ground research and experience from Michigan, Utah, the Siberian Korean pine forests in China, and the Navaho Reservation to his current teaching position in Natural Resources at Itasca Community College in Grand Rapids. An avid birder and woodsman, Harry skis and bikes the Northland. Hear him weekly on "A Walk on the Wild Side" on KAXE Tuesday mornings at 7:40.

Many Vendors with exciting products and ideas will be here during breaks and over lunch.
